IMPACT
FACTOR
12.759!

Official Journal of the American Psychiatric Association

Edited by Robert Freedman, M.D.

- The American Journal of Psychiatry has an impact factor of 12.759, a rise from last year's 12.522 and 2-point rise from the previous year's 10.545, according to the recently released 2010 Journal Citation Reports® (Thomson Reuters, 2011), placing it 2nd among the 126 journals in psychiatry journals indexed, while still remaining the far-and-away leader in total citations.
- The American Journal of Psychiatry (AJP) is also the #2 journal in psychiatry in terms of immediacy according to Thomson Scientific's Immediacy Index. This important performance metric is calculated by dividing the number of citations to articles published in a given year by the number of articles published in that year.

- The Immediacy Index is a good measure of how quickly a given journal's articles are cited—AJP's #2 placement is a result of publishing articles that are relevant, covering current "hot" topics and cutting-edge research, and getting these findings to the field faster with AJP in Advance, the Journal's online-ahead-of-print publication protocol.
- A recent poll conducted by the BioMedical & Life Sciences Division of The Special Libraries Association identified the 100 most influential journals in all of Biology & Medicine over the last 100 years. The American Journal of Psychiatry was among those honored, the only psychiatry/psychology journal represented.

No other psychiatric journal reaches more psychiatrists with greater impact or immediacy than the journal that the overwhelming majority of psychiatrists considers essential: AJP.

Metaphors of the Mind (2007). Rhys Bevan Jones (b. 1976)

Rhys Bevan Jones is a higher trainee in psychiatry and clinical lecturer in Cardiff. He has a special interest in the relationship between psychiatry and the visual world, and in particular how themes such as the mind, mental states and identity can be explored through still and moving images. He has studied at art colleges such as Central St Martins and Kingston University, London. He has exhibited his work in London and Wales and has illustrated a number of publications.

This work is based on the responses of colleagues, students, friends and family to the question 'How do you "see" the mind?'. The media used include printmaking, pen and ink and digital imaging (see www.rhysbevanjones.com for more examples). Rhys is currently investigating the use of illustration, film and multimedia in medical education, psychoeducation research and public engagement work.

We are always looking for interesting and visually appealing images for the cover of the Journal and would welcome suggestions or pictures, which should be sent to Dr Allan Beveridge, British Journal of Psychiatry, 17 Belgrave Square, London SW1X 8PG, UK or bjp@rcpsych.ac.uk.
