

FALL 2015 | VOLUME 27 | NUMBER 4

The Journal of Neuropsychiatry
and Clinical Neurosciences

Neurobiology of Implicit and Explicit Bias: Implications for Clinicians

Personality Change Due to Traumatic Brain Injury in Children and Adolescents: Neurocognitive Correlates

Preinjury Emotional-Behavioral Functioning of Children With Lingering Problems After Mild Traumatic Brain Injury

Multigenerational Positive Family History of Psychiatric Disorders
Is Associated With a Poor Prognosis in Bipolar Disorder

Anxiety in Huntington's Disease

Official Journal of the American Neuropsychiatric Association neuro.psychiatryonline.org