IN THIS ISSUE

This issue of the Residents' Journal focuses on the topic of Biological Psychiatry. In an editorial, Adarsh S. Reddy, M.D., Ph.D., discusses the importance of understanding the biological underpinnings of psychiatric illnesses. Matthew E. Hirschtritt, M.D., M.P.H., examines evidence for and against a causal mechanism linking traumatic brain injury (TBI) and criminality in youths, with discussion on the neurobiology of TBI. Gopalkumar Rakesh, M.D., investigates the neurobiology of consciousness and its relevance and application in psychiatry. Amy E. Curtis, M.D., presents a review of white matter dysfunction central to the neurodevelopment of schizophrenia. Alecia Vogel-Hammen, M.D., Ph.D., provides important information on resting state functional connectivity. Julio M. Bernardi, M.D., examines optogenetic applications in psychiatric research. Lastly, Janet Charoensook, M.D., presents a review of the book Brain on Fire: Month of Madness, about a rare neuro-immunological illness that manifested with prominent psychosis.

Leading the way

"I was attracted by the opportunity to do Telepsychiatry with DMH; it's the first time it's ever been done in an urban setting."

*Amber Kondor, MD
General Psychiatrist*

"It's a large, dynamic department, just like the city...it affords me an opportunity to work with a lot of different people."

James R. Jones, MD Regional Medical

Join the largest, most dynamic mental health department in the nation. We are creating the future of mental health services, and we are seeking physicians who are ready to join our team and push the boundaries of traditional community practice.

The Sulzbacher Center, Northeast Florida's largest provider of comprehensive services for the homeless and those living below the poverty level, is seeking a Psychiatrist who is looking to share his/her skills with this very special patient population. The position is located in sunny Jacksonville Florida, and offers a flexible schedule with competitive benefits and no on-call, evenings or weekends. The Sulzbacher Clinic is a Federally Qualified Health Center and a HRSA-certified Medical Home.

Qualifications: Must be Board Eligible/Board Certified and licensed to practice in Florida. A minim of 5 years in a clinical setting, including previous supervisory experience is preferred. Ability to lead a dynamic team is crucial, along with excellent interpersonal and time management skills.

About Jacksonville: Jacksonville's convenient location, mild climate, reasonable cost of living and high quality of life have made it a popular choice for corporate expansion, relocation and retirement. Downtown Jacksonville offers quaint riverfront streets lined with boutiques, live music venues and sidewalk cafes. A few miles away there are white sandy beaches to explore – a true paradise for hiking, camping and water sports.

The Sulzbacher Clinics are eligible for the National Health Service Corps Loan Repayment Program.
